I'm very deeply and sincerely sorry and extremely regretful that I refused to be adult enough to own my mistake and take responsibility and the consequences that goes with it. I'm sorry so very sorry that I put my selfishness and my feelings and wants of you ahead of yours. I just didn't want a life without you. I just wanted a life with you and eternity. I selfishly and foolishly put those wants and desires ahead of doing the right thing and taking accountability and responsibility for a very bad mistake I made. I am so very sincerely and genuinely sorry I couldn't be adult enough before now.
